

FRENCH GENERAL PAYS TRIBUTE TO RAINBOW DIVISION

By NEWTON C. PARKER
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY IN FRANCE, June 21 (Night).—The "rainbow division" of the United States army, which has been serving on the Lorraine front, has distinguished itself to such an extent as to receive a citation from the French general commanding an army corps.

The French officer stated in the order that he desired to do homage to the fine military qualities which the men of the American division displayed and for the services they had rendered.

The ardor for offensive operations and the utilization and organization of terrain, as well as the spirit and methods of discipline of both officers and men, "proved that they can, at the first call, take a glorious place on the line of battle."

The "rainbow division" is so called because it has men in its ranks from so many of the American States.

RIGHT OF SEARCH TRANS FOR BOOZE IS TESTED

Judge William C. Glott, of Alexandria, Va., today has under advisement the mooted question whether Virginia prohibition inspectors have the privilege of search of passengers leaving Washington over railroads.

His decision in the test case, which directly applies to Washington travelers, will be announced Monday.

The controversy between railroad officials and "dry" workers at the Virginia border was brought to a climax in the Alexandria county court this morning when J. C. Shelhouse, a prohibition inspector, charged L. G. Royal, conductor on the Southern railway, with protecting passengers and articles on a south-bound train from examination by "dry" officers.

The testimony offered at the hearing showed that Royal defied the searching party which endeavored to examine personal effects of passengers.

Gardner L. Boothe, local attorney for the Southern railway, claimed that under the prohibition law, the Virginia official would have been obliged to bring every passenger and his possessions before a magistrate who would search the train.

Under the amendment to the Virginia prohibition law, which became effective today, the "dry" agents are given broader powers in search.

MISS JEANETTE RANKIN, member of Congress from Montana, wears a de pin with the word "champion" in gold letters whenever she appears on the floor of the House.

It means that the founder of the Bureau of Engraving and Printing in their struggle for better working conditions. It was presented to her in token of the appreciation of work done by her for the bureau girls, who have their pay increase pending.

Here are the ways in which Miss Rankin has helped the girls, as outlined by Miss Lala V. Harris, president of the Woman's Union, Bureau of Engraving and Printing:

"1. In 1917 she exposed the overtime work done without pay under the directorship of Mr. Ralph. She showed us how to organize and fight for our rights."

"2. She brought about the passage of the bill carrying an increase of $400,000 a year for us."

"3. She is our 'god mother,' said Miss Harris. When I presented the medal to her she was at her desk at her office."

"She said, 'Thank you, I am so glad to have it. I wear it.'"

Reports show that the membership of the union has now reached 2,422 members.

TELEPHONE RATES ARE NOT TO GO UP TILL FACTS ARE IN

on the telephone company to present considerable more evidence that it ought to have the increase it is so earnestly seeking.

If the developments show that the experts are right in their conclusions that the telephone company can greatly decrease its cost of operation here by installing automatic at the same time giving an improved service, then the commission may not remain of the same opinion it once was.

Prof. R. H. one of the chief assistants to the director of the bureau, Dr. F. A. Wolf, P. G. Agnew, and B. S. Macomber, experts who have been studying telephone questions for a long time, and who have figured in the telephone fight here, spent an hour with Commissioner Brownlow going over the facts that have been accumulated by them.

They stated their preparedness to present the facts they have, but indicated that the telephone company has expressed a willingness to co-operate with them in furnishing data as to the respective efficiency of the system, used here, and the automatic system, including costs of operation and facts. Should a more extensive division be desired by the Utilities Commission the experts wanted more time.

Prof. R. H. declared that the bureau, as represented by him, was not seeking a fight with the telephone company, its millions of dollars in assets, but that if the company sincerely desired co-operation in obtaining all facts the experts were willing.

World Avoided Injured.

The attitude of the bureau is that telephone communication represents a partnership between the telephone company and the public and that the relations between the partners should be conducted in an amicable manner that neither side might be done injury. The Bureau of Standards was created to give to the public the best standards in all sort of instruments, and the wish of experts is to obtain all possible facts.

An accounting by the telephone company of its business, cost of operation, expenditures and experience in the use of modern and other equipment would be welcome to the experts, Dr. R. H. said. The opening up of its methods of operations to the experts will take some time, and that is why postponement of the hearing has been suggested.

Regarding complete investigation as sure to take much time the telephone company persists in urging the Utilities Commission to grant a temporary increase in rates here, pending the more complete investigations which the commission is known to contemplate.

Important New Data.

The fact that the commission is not as satisfied as it once was that the company should have what it asks for was regarded today as certain evidence that additional light that is expected from various sources is regarded by the commission as important.

The Bureau experts are prepared to present statistics showing beyond question that automatic equipment, which can be procured promptly, despite contrary assertions by the company, would undoubtedly greatly lessen the operating costs of the local company, to an extent, too, that would eliminate a possible increase of rates.

The facts will also bring out the persistent policy of the Bell officials to minimize automatic equipment and to retain the manual system even to the point of installing automatic equipment whenever that company purchases independent lines operated on an automatic basis. The reasons for this policy are practically sure to come to light along with the other information.

WALL ST. MARKET CLOSING IS STRONG ON STOCK EXCHANGE

Strength Shown From Time Session Opens—Many Issues Make Substantial Gains—Steel Common in Fair Demand—Other Steels Advance.

NEW YORK, June 22.—Although there was little regularity at the stock market at the opening day, the tone was strong, and many issues made substantial gains during the first fifteen minutes.

United Cigar Stores was the most prominent feature, there being continued accumulation of that stock, which advanced two points, to 103 1/2. Steel common was in fair demand, advancing 1/2, to 88 1/2, on a small amount of business. Other steel stocks generally made fractional gains.

Great Northern Ore was unusually active, moving up one point to 34. The market closed strong.
